

Credit Association At Bentley Not Yet Operating

Rumored Meeting to Be Called Soon; To Elect New Slate of Directors; Stationary Received

The Community Producers' Association, formed recently at Bentley, under the protective wing of the Bentley Social Credit Association, has not yet started its operations. It was learned by The Lacombe Globe on Thursday morning. It is understood around Bentley that a meeting will be held shortly, at which it is expected a new board of directors for the association will be elected. Stationary and books necessary for the operation of the organization have been received by E. Peterson, secretary of the Bentley Social Credit Association, but no definite statement as to when the Association will start operations is obtainable at present.

Half a dozen business men of the town met in the club room behind the church Wednesday evening. A large number of those with those interested in the formation of the union, the plans and workings of such an association. E. Pool, M.P. for Red Deer, and P. Rock of Three Hills were present at the meeting to explain to the business men the manner in which the organization would work. It was explained that the association would operate closely along the line of the Three Hills set-up, and considerable discussion took place regarding the "cheques" to be issued against the consumers' association.

It is understood that this meeting was called primarily to find out whether the merchants of the town would accept the "cheques". No definite answer was given the association directors as to whether or not these "cheques" would be accepted. One business man of the town when contacted by The Lacombe Globe, doubted whether the "cheques" would be negotiable among the Bentley business places.

Right Handed Golfers Whip "Lefties" at Local Golf Tournament

Left-handed golfers at the local club threw a scare into the larger right-handed group in the Left-Handers vs. Right-Handers tournament held over the week-end and completed Wednesday. The right-handed aggregation managed to sneak under the wire to win the play by one half point. A return match will be played this week-end, however, as left-handed golfers speak of "shenanigans" in the draw, claiming that the draw, in some cases, was "cooked".

Cat Perches On Telephone Pole for 3 Days; Is Rescued

Doug Innes changed his duties Tuesday night from telephone line repairman to that of a feline rescuer. A cat, reported up a telephone pole one mile straight east of Lacombe, was rescued by the local pole climber Tuesday night. According to a report of Mr. S. Davidson, teacher of Central School, the cat had clung to its precarious perch among the telephone wires for three days and three nights.

Further reports state that the cat gratefully clung to Doug Innes' back while Doug made his way down the pole, and when still about ten feet from the ground it left his newly found friend, jumped to the ground and disappeared among the fields.

Large Crowd Attends Last Rites for Late R. N. Longstreet

(From Our Own Correspondent)

CLIVE.—The funeral of R. N. Longstreet was held at the Community Hall on Thursday, Sept. 15. Rev. Kettys and Rev. L. N. Hughes of Hardisty officiated. Rev. Hughes spoke in fitting words of the deceased as one who was always ready and willing to work to help in any cause that was for the benefit of the community.

He was a member of the United Church Choir for years and also served on the church board. He enjoyed clean sports and was manager of the softball team for three years, and served on the skating rink committee. Popular with the young people, he was free to give them advice on the benefits of living a pure and wholesome life. The late Mr. Longstreet took a great interest in the village, as he was one who worked to have it located here, and served on the village council for nine years.

The front of the hall was filled with cut flowers and 25 wreaths and sprays paid tribute to the deceased. The choir was from both churches. He was laid to rest in Clive cemetery, of which he, and his father before him, had been caretakers for nearly 30 years.

The services were in charge of the I.O.O.F. lodge at Clive, of which he was a member, and a member. Oddfellows from many other lodges in Central Alberta, including Lacombe, attended the services.

Funeral services were held at the Clive cemetery.

Town of Lacombe Tightens Up on Relief Payments

Action Made Necessary by Provincial Government Circular Referring to Relief
Cases; No Half-Holiday Wednesday

No relief will be issued in the Town of Lacombe this fall until such time as the relief applications have been accepted by the Provincial Bureau of Relief and Public Welfare. This was definitely decided at a meeting of the Town Council held in the Town Office Tuesday night, as considerable discussion arose over the wording of a notice sent out by the Provincial Government dealing with relief grants. In the past, Councillor W. Avery, chairman of the local Relief Committee explained, it has been the practice of the Town to provide "advance" relief on applications received. In the future this practice will be stopped, and all applications must be accepted by the Provincial Government before acceptance by the Town of Lacombe.

The notice sent out by the Provincial department which led to this decision reads in part: "... The Province agrees that the maximum amount of 'material aid' (food, fuel, clothing and shelter) shall be less than the normal earnings of an unskilled laborer in the District wherein the recipient resides as averaged over the year preceding the granting of 'material aid' with account taken for the average loss of time. As there was a great deal of doubt arising in the minds of the councillors regarding the arriving at a set figure for the 'normal earnings of an unskilled laborer' and 'the average loss of time,' it was decided to have the secretary write to the Provincial Government, asking them to clarify these phrases.

Half Holiday Cancelled
It was decided to cancel the half holiday next Wednesday, September 22, in view of the School Fair which will be held in Lacombe on that date. Mayor Jones has issued a proclamation to this effect.

The meeting started, the councillors visited the court room, where renovations have been made in the lighting, the walls and the woodwork. Mayor E. H. Jones, in his capacity of Police Magistrate for the town, expressed his keen appreciation of the re-modelling, and commended the Town Council for its action in cleaning up what was undoubtedly an eye-sore to the town.

Councillor T. Wilkes reported that he had been contacted by the Lacombe School Board with a view to having school signs placed along the roads leading up to the entrance of the school. It was finally decided that these signs should be installed at once.

Lights Are Installed
Councillor Newman reported that the lights had been installed on the parking lot, and expressed the wish that the shoppers of Lacombe would use the lot for parking on Saturday night.

Councillor W. Avery reported that, in compliance with a request from the Canadian Legion here, a plot had been reserved at the local cemetery for returned men.

A letter written by the secretary to the Federal Department of Agriculture regarding the diversion of the waters of the Lake Blindman River into Gull Lake was presented, and the Town referred to the Federal Department of Public Works.

Councillor W. Avery was appointed to the committee to select a three-month period October 1 to December 31.

No Half Holiday Next Wednesday

Stores and places of business will remain open in Lacombe next Wednesday, Sept. 22, to cater to the visitors from the surrounding district attending the Lacombe Rural School Fair to be held here on that date. This was definitely decided at a meeting of the Town Council held Tuesday night, and a proclamation to this effect will be issued by Mayor E. H. Jones.

Canadian Legion Will Again Stage Amateur Contest in Pavilion

Armistice Night, Nov. 11, Date
Of Popular Event; New Class
For Children This Year

Proving one of the most popular events of past years, the Lacombe branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. are again sponsoring the annual Big Amateur Contest and Concert, to be followed by a Big Dance, in the Central Alberta Pavilion on Armistice night, Friday, Nov. 11th next.

On account of the great amount of interest maintained in past years, the Legion is planning this year to augment the affair with a children's contest, in addition to the usual adult contest.

Three prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded the first, second and third prize winners respectively in the adult class, and in the children's class, which will be open to all children of 14 years of age and under, four prizes will be offered, made up as follows: First prize, $12; second prize, $8; third prize, $5; fourth prize, $3.

Brings Fine Talent
This event has made the reputation of bringing out the finest talent in Central Alberta, and is expected to draw entries from many towns and surrounding districts. Twenty-three contestants competed last year in singing, dancing, comedy and musical acts, giving a pleasing two-hour entertainment, and the judges had difficulty in deciding the winners, as many of the acts were of outstanding merit.

As in previous contests, no entries will be allowed, which assures every contestant an even chance for the prizes. Mary Martin, Red Deer, who won first prize last year, with a singing comedy act, will be a special feature at the event this year, with a novelty star tap dance, but WILL NOT compete in the competition.

The Legion will be assisted by the Let-Ve-Forget Club, who will have charge of the catering arrangements. An augmented orchestra, comprising some of the best musicians available, will furnish the music, under the direction of Lou Chapin, for the Grand Novelty Band that will follow immediately after the contest and concert.

Enquiries already received point to the great interest taken in the event again this year, and many intending competitors are busy rehearsing their respective acts. Application forms may be obtained from the Secretary, F. P. Holgate, A. M. Campbell Ltd., Lacombe, or the Lacombe Globe. Entries must be in by Thursday, Nov. 3rd.

RED DEER LIONS VISIT HERE
Half a dozen members of the Red Deer Lions' Club paid a fraternal visit to the Lions' Club of Lacombe Tuesday when the organization held their regular meeting in the Empress Hotel.

Welcome, Visitors

On behalf of the Council and the Town of Lacombe it gives me very great pleasure to extend the most hearty welcome to those Schools who are proposing to attend the Lacombe School Fair, to be held on September 28th. The work of this School Fair is of great value not only to the Schools themselves but to the District as well, and I trust that the visitors will have an enjoyable as well as a successful time.

Big Pier at Gull Lake Dismantled By Govt. Order

Claimed Unsafe by Provincial
Engineers; Cost Government
Close to $5,000 When Built

The pier at Gull Lake is no more.

For the past two weeks, Frank Barr, acting under instructions from the provincial Department of Public Works, has been busily engaged in tearing down the planks and cross-boards of the pier. Only the heavy log pilings remain as a memento of the big pier, which was built in 1926 at a cost of close to $5,000 to the Provincial Government.

It was a gala day for the collectors of Gull Lake when Premier J. E. Brownlee and Miss Irene Paribee officially opened the big pier. A large crowd witnessed the elaborate ceremonies as the new addition to the lake front was believed to symbolize another step forward in the growth of Gull Lake as the largest summer resort of Central Alberta. For years after its opening the pier was a scene of constant activity from July 1 to the end of August, as resort seekers from every part of the province visited Gull Lake to sing its praises.

But the waters of the lake receded slowly at first, then quickly. The lake waters surrounding the big pier gave way to a broad plain of sand. Government engineers inspected the pier this spring and condemned the foundations, claiming them to be dangerous and unsafe.

Officials of the Village of Gull Lake and permanent residents at the Lake protested that the pier was unsafe for the public when contacted by the Lacombe Globe. It was stated that the foundations of the pier were in excellent shape, only a few boards and planks forming the walk on the pier having rotted.

Former Blackfalds Resident Dies

Old-Mrs. Ann May Burns, a former old-timer of the Blackfalds district, passed away in Victoria, B.C., last week. Mrs. Burns came to the Blackfalds district in 1906 and lived there up to seven months ago, when she moved to Victoria. She was 81 years of age.

Funeral services were held on Thursday of last week at the coast city.

The deceased settled east of Blackfalds at Burbank in 1906. She moved to this country from England with her family, and for the past several years had been living with her daughter, Mrs. H. Elwell, south of Blackfalds. Mrs. Burns was very well known in the district. Mrs. Burns leaves two daughters, Mrs. Phillips, living in England, and Mrs. H. Elwell of Blackfalds; and one brother, Geo. Gregson.

Ponoka Hospital Inmate Recaptured Here Sunday Night

An inmate of the provincial asylum, who escaped from custody last Thursday, was arrested in Lacombe Sunday night by Constable Cecil Mosier. John Turinchinsky, the escaped lunatic, was standing on the Royal Bank corner, evidently intent on boarding the bus for the north, when Constable Mosier recognized him from the description circulated by the Ponoka Mental Hospital.

After considerable trouble the local policeman managed to walk Turinchinsky to the police office, where he was placed in the cell. Constable Mosier immediately contacted Ponoka Hospital officials and the man was removed to the institution Sunday night.

A white Wyandotte, owned by Ludwig Kilde, nineteen miles northwest of town, outdid itself recently by laying an egg weighing four ounces even. The egg measures 7 1/2 inches around the longest way, and 6 1/2 inches in circumference. The hen, Ludwig reports, was purchased at a sale held last spring.

Mrs. N. Gray of the Spring Valley district reports extra large raspberries still growing on the bushes in her garden. The berries are just as juicy as those picked earlier in the season and are bearing heavily. Peas and other garden produce, too, are responding to the summer-like warm weather of the past few days and peas are in full blossom in Mrs. Gray's garden.

Mrs. D. A. Patterson of Blackfalds has a sunflower head which measures 16 inches in diameter. Mrs. Steve Abbott, living south-east of town, reports a pumpkin grown in her garden weighing 33 pounds, and measuring 40 1/2 inches around, starting to measure from the stem. It is of the pie pumpkin variety and was

Support the School Fair

ON Wednesday, September 28, school children from various schools of the Lacombe district will attend the annual School Fair to be held in the Central Alberta Pavilion. So far, nine schools have signified their intention to compete for the honors, scholarships and cups being offered as prizes. Parents of these children, too, will be Lacombe visitors to examine the exhibits and support the School Fair executive.

These School Fairs are undoubtedly raising the standard of work in rural schools of the province. By offering substantial prizes, they are creating keen interest among students, interest which is evident by the high class of work entered for judging. The entries will comprise every phase of school work under the new curriculum. Manual training, cooking, sewing, elementary science and agricultural exhibits will all be judged by authorities on the various studies.

The Fair is well worth the support of the Lacombe citizens. The Lacombe Globe, on behalf of the Town, extends a hearty welcome to the exhibitors at the Fair, their parents and visitors attending.

It's Your Parking Lot

THE Town of Lacombe has gone to considerable trouble and expense to clear off a large parking lot directly north of P. Swanson's Repair Shop on Alberta St. for the convenience of shoppers in town on Saturday night. Lights have been installed, railings put up and the ground levelled. This land was converted into a parking lot to prevent congestion on down-town streets on Saturday night. It is convenient to all shopping points in town, police protection is provided, and yet the lot stands vacant while down-town streets become overcrowded with cars, people and horse-drawn vehicles.

The parking lot was built solely for the convenience of its shoppers. It seems unfortunate that those shoppers for whom it was designed do not make use of it.

Hats Off to the Boys

WHEN make the best cooks! How often have women argued futilely against this maxim, which has become established as a truth within the past twenty-five years. To prove this point conclusively, school boys of the Clive school districts entered certain baking classes at the Clive rural School Fair held recently and walked away with several of the first prizes, leaving representatives of the fairer sex behind.

Let us take the baking powder biscuit entries at the Fair held on September 10. Baking powder biscuits—those old reliable stand-bys in which our grandmothers took so much pride—and yet it was a boy, Donald Kettly of Clive, who won first prize in direct competition with five girls.

Eighteen entries were entered in the "raisin cake" class, but it was a boy, Lawrence Wagner of Clive, who slipped under the wire first to cop the major prize for baking the best raisin cake entered. In preparing school lunches, too, boys proved their superiority when a Donald Martin of Clive school was given the first post in a field of six.

Some might wonder if this is evolution. Are the boys taking the places of the girls in the home of today? With the entry of women into the commercial and business fields in large numbers as evident today, perhaps the males are endeavoring to show the women that there is room for real improvement in the cooking standards in modern homes. Or perhaps the boys are endeavoring only to set a mark at which girls might shoot—a goal to reach—the ultimate in cooking. Whatever may be drawn from the results at the Clive School Fair, let us congratulate those intrepid boys who entered into the girls' fields and beat them at their own game.

Through the Eyes of a

Country Woman

By BRIDGET

This week, a year ago, this column first saw the light of day, so, perhaps, as it is a kind of anniversary, may I be forgiven if I indulge in "reminiscing" for a little while. During the last twelve months, all sorts of subjects and events have been discussed in this column. We have talked together on the fate of Europe, on farm and school matters, on dress, seasons, love, hate and all the emotions of frail human life. In the first article we discussed the glories and the disappointments. "Fall" brought, but our interests have been all-embracing, and everything, and every event did become fodder for thought and discussion.

It has been a very interesting experience from my point of view, as a Columnist is really in rather an enviable position! Providing you can get an amiable Editor (as I have) to publish your thoughts, it is easy enough to put them down on paper as there is no one to argue with you. It is a grand opportunity to theorize and lay down the law, when no one tells you Nay or Yes. I can thoroughly recommend this as a means of settling any doubts that may beset you. Try it, write down your thoughts on any subject troubling you, and it is astonishing to find how the written words can clarify issues in your mind, and reduce mountains to mole-hills. There is something so irrevocable in the written word, that it cannot be treated as lightly as the spoken word. It is not nearly as easy to think before we speak, as we were told we should do, when young! But, we do have to think before we write, and therefore we can't write as freely and unthinkingly as we speak.

Reflection also may bring wisdom. I have written an article, or maybe just a letter, and seen the same a little later, after due reflection, and been painfully surprised at the faulty reasoning, and arguments presented, in something I had fondly imagined I had polished. However, that brings us to another point. Writing teaches us the value of accuracy, the value of a single letter, and the shortest stop. I wrote a sentence last week which should have read, "the farmer, the destroyer of foods, etc., is hailed as an eminent student of economics." Between my copy, and the finished newspaper article, the "o" in former got mislaid, an "a" appeared in its place, making "farmer" out of "former," and destroying the whole sense of the paragraph, making the very person who grows food, take on the guise of a destroyer thereof. This paragraph ended with the words, "strange to say the least of it" and it certainly would be strange if farmers, who grow, according to some people, too much food, advocated destroying it. At the end of this article, in the last paragraph, the sentence, "All these things linked one with the other," lost its meaning by the word "linked" becoming "likened,"—all the correct letters, but in wrong order, such a little slip, but what a difference.

Doesn't this bring home most forcibly, the amount of accurate work involved in the newspapers we so lightly pay a nickel for, and abuse so roundly when we can spot a mistake?

It does make one realize the value of accuracy. During our immature years, we are apt to shy at the word accuracy, it seems so stuffy and staid. But, lack of accuracy could make Empires fall, and all sorts of horrors to happen! Only a little while ago there was wholesale potential death being sold through an inaccurate formula being made up and distributed as a cure for certain ailments.

The accuracy of the engineers who built the famous railway tunnel through the mountains near Banff is a lesson for all. Their calculations were so accurate that the tunnel being bored from each end met within a fraction of an inch. Inaccuracy in building or in reading a ship's compass might well mean disaster to man and property. The surgeon and his knife, know to the full the necessity of strict accuracy, human lives depend on it.

So accuracy is not a bad goal for which to strive. It may seem dull, but it is inevitably necessary if we wish to become a success in life, and be outstanding. Don't we women know to our cost, how necessary accuracy is in our every-day life. Our cakes would not be a success if our measurements and weights were not accurate.

This column, which started out to be a resume of last year's articles, has turned out to be a dissertation on the value of accuracy! However, does it matter very much?

Dominion Government to Stand Pat On 80 Cent Minimum Wheat Price

OTTAWA. — Although scattered demands have been coming from Maritime Provinces and Central Canada for the retirement of the Government from its policy of an 80-cent minimum wheat price, it can be stated on the authority of close ministerial sources that there is no possibility whatever of the 80-cent price being abandoned. The reason is that the figure was not fixed by the Cabinet with the main idea of attempting to forecast the course of the market. It was done rather with a view to setting a minimum figure which would enable producers, who had suffered from several successive years of drought, to recover a measure of purchasing power through the medium of this year's crop. Of course, the Government does not view the idea of a $50,000,000 or a little while ago there was wholesale potential death being sold through an inaccurate formula being made up and distributed as a cure for certain ailments.

United States Congressional elections on November 8 next. With the Congressional elections now less than seven weeks distant and the campaign warming into high intensity, it is apparent to Parliament Hill that the Roosevelt forces are not relying upon the treaty for part of their political ammunition. This fact is creating considerable optimism on Parliament Hill in respect to the treaty.

The Eastern Industrial Worker is one of the West's Best Customers

That tearful cow will have lots of company on its long trek East: 175,704 other head of cattle for instance, 21,144 calves and 41,557 hogs — these figures representing Eastern consumption of Western livestock in 1936. Besides these huge shipments on the hoof, Eastern industry consumed more than 80,000 tons of Western fresh dressed meat; 10,000 tons of butter, 6,000,000 pounds of poultry and over 50,000,000 eggs; the whole bringing a total revenue of over $40,000,000 to the Western producer.

The Eastern industrial worker is one of the West's best customers, but he can remain so only when actively employed. Your purchase of a Canadian-built car helps keep him, and his fellow-workers in the parts, steel, paint, glass, chemical and other industries — on the payroll; puts them all in a position to buy more of your goods.

The World of Wheat

By MAJOR H. L. STRANGE

The shadow of "The Four Horsemen" of the Apocalypse is falling upon us. The chargers are being ground, saddled and equipped to spread war, hunger, death and destruction.

Should the evil forces be loosed, then the young men, under flying banners and to the strains of martial music, will march bravely to battle. But soon they will find that their flesh is but a poor shield against hurtling, jagged steel splinters. They will know the hard choking and blinding death from poison gas. They will experience the gripping, dry-throated ghastly fear as their companions before their eyes become piles of torn and shattered flesh and bone. They will see once happy homes and gardens made into heaps of muck and rubble.

At home little children will weep with pride, of the brave deeds of their gallant soldier fathers, but in quiet places dry-eyed gentle women will mourn their lost men, and will look to Fact and Fiction...

By ART

"Memories, memories, Dreams of long ago, O'er the sea of memory—"

It has been said that over half of the population today live in the past, that may or may not be true, but there is no doubt that many of our happiest hours are those spent in recalling past events, when we worked and danced under conditions which, in many cases, were far removed from those of 1938.

There were, for instance, the dark days of the Great War, when the country seemed to be saved from despondency only by a flood of war songs which arrived on the scene at an opportune time to cheer up the folks back home.

Recently I came across a wartime catalogue of a well known record company, which brought back many memories of those stirring days. Included in the listings were such popular "hits" as "Take Me Back to Dear Old Blighty," "Oh How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning," "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," the American favorite, "It's a Long Way to Dear Old Broadway," and scores of others.

These songs didn't win the war by any means, but they helped everyone make the best of some very dark days.

Coming on the music market at the same time were many other splendid musical efforts, some of which will last for many years to come. "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," for instance, has a lifting melody which is as sweet as ever; "When You Look in the Heart of a Rose" as played by the orchestras of the time was an unforgettable treat; "There's a Long, Long Trail" has few equals and will probably outlive most of us, and there were many more of equal calibre, "Dear Old Pal of Mine," "Beautiful Colorado Wends Its Way" and "Hoses of Picardy"—what splendid pieces they were! It was a musical era which brought forth many songs which years of "swing" music may never erase from our memories.

a future shattered and empty of hope.

Finally, when "The Captains and the Kings depart," there will limp pathetically across the country the burned-out veteran, trying in vain to reinstate himself in a busy world that somehow has forgotten him. Then for farmers the aftermath of low prices, "A measure of wheat and three measures of barley for a penny," the Scriptures tell us.

Yet throughout the ages has ever rolled the clear but unheeded injunction man—Share the fruits of your toil and of your lands freely with those in need—or suffer war.

How sad, how pathetic, how stupid it all is.

Following factors have tended to lower prices:—
French threshing returns exceed earlier expectations; Russia makes large exports of barley and wheat; Prairie wheat crop confirmed well over 300 million; Showers in Argentina and Australia; International Institute estimates Italian wheat production at 294 million; France offering soft wheat for shipment to England.

CANADIAN CHEESE EXPORTS

Exports of Canadian cheese to the British island of Malta, in the Mediterranean, during 1937 (1,400 cwts.) almost doubled in volume compared with 1936. The imports into Malta of Canadian wheat flour also advanced in volume and price, the increase in wheat with diminished supplies being in price only.

Canada exported 3,311 tons of wheat to Italy during the first five months of 1938.

Maori Increase In New Zealand Brings Problem

AUCKLAND, New Zealand.—The problem of an increasing Maori population looms largely in the annual report of the Native Department of the New Zealand Government.

"The increasing Maori population," the report says, "though a hopeful and encouraging indication of the regeneration of the Maori people, creates problems which throw added responsibilities on the Department."

The report says the economic and living conditions of the Maori people have been materially improved by the native land development schemes and the housing schemes.

The total number of Maori settlers put on the land under the small farms plans is 1722, and including the families of these settlers and laborers, it is estimated that these holdings support 16,000 people, or one-quarter of the Maori community. The value of the products of the Maori farms is increasing.

Editor, Lacombe Globe:

Sir—Recently the Editor of the Halifax Herald sent me a copy of that paper containing a detailed account of the tragic, desperate condition of thousands of miners and fishermen in Nova Scotia, the investigations of some members of the Press Gallery in Ottawa.

I think, perhaps, your readers may be interested to hear of living conditions under orthodox and enlightened Liberal rule, which some seem to be so anxious to restore to Alberta. Especially should it gratify the "souls" of financial "hicks" who resent any effort to improve the living conditions of our own people.

Says the Rev. A. F. Dentith, for 27 years an Anglican rector of a small fishing town in N.S.—

"During my rectorship (27 years) I only saw fresh meat twice on the table of a fisherman. Is it any wonder that 75 per cent of the people have T.B.?"

There are columns of such evidence, but the Bank of Nova Scotia shares are the highest quoted in Canada, and the Province enjoys the "blessings" of Liberal rule. Messrs. Gray, Shaw & Co. are wasting their time and talents in this benighted Province of Alberta; they should go to Nova Scotia and learn how really prosperous people may be under the control of Liberalism and orthodox Finance. The Herald has done a great service in calling attention to these inhuman scandals, but their only remedy is to elect Conservatives, who are equally controlled by Finance.

Banks control the policy of Governments and hold in the hollow of their hands the destinies of the people, but "there is a day of reckoning yet to come."

NORMAN JACQUES.

GROWING VEGETABLES ON DRY LAND

That vegetables can be grown successfully under dry land conditions is one of the points emphasized in the Dominion Department of Agriculture exhibit at the various Class B Agricultural fairs recently held throughout Canada. The exhibit in the Class A fairs dealt mainly with the national problem of prairie farm rehabilitation, community co-operation, and buying by grade.

Yields have been well above average in this district, farmers report.

Yes, But That's Different

It was during an English lesson. The teacher had called for synonyms of the word "get." As she read the return papers her eyebrows rose. "John, what made you put down 'tease' and 'beg' as synonyms of 'get'? They aren't synonyms." "John was plainly astonished. "But isn't that the way you get teased and begged?" he asked.

Chinese Missionary Church Speaker

Miss Margaret Gay, for the past 28 years a missionary in Honan, North China, and now home on a short furlough, gave an interesting account of her work at Wei-wei, where she is superintendent of the hospital, at the regular W.M.S. meeting at J. N. B. MacDonald's home on Monday. She told of the vast patience and cheerfulness of the people under dire poverty; the plagues of locusts which on occasion sweep over the land, destroying the crops, and the droughts and floods which leave famines behind them.

Miss Gay spoke of the marriage customs and the difficult plight of girls and brides, of the hospital work, the public health centre, and clinics, and the pathetic cases which come for medical attention. Miss Gay also sang some of the Chinese hymns. Mrs. Misener tendered Miss Gay a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the Society.

Coming from the midst of the war zone in North China, Miss Margaret Gay, missionary stationed at Wei-wei, in Honan, was an interesting speaker at the morning and evening services in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday, Sept. 18.

Miss Gay is superintendent in the hospital at Wei-wei, which is well equipped with 100 beds and stands in a compound of 60 acres. The southern part of North China covers a triangle about the size of the acreage extending from Edmonton to Calgary and east to Macklin at the border, and its population comprises eight millions, for which the United Church has assumed responsibility. To do this work there are 13 mission and 30 native teachers, six mission and seven native doctors, five hospitals, six

Miss Gay spoke of the war situation, and said that Japanese or Chinese armies wishes to harm the missionaries, but that the war had greatly affected their relationships with the authorities.
